Marcel Wanders

Marcel Wanders is a product and interior designer who drew international recognition for his Knotted Chair produced by Droog Design in 1996. His work is ubiquitous; he designs for leading international companies such as Flos, Alessi, Puma, KLM Royal Dutch Airlines, MAC Cosmetics, Cappellini, B&B Italia, Moroso and Target. Wanders also designs for architectural projects, such as the Kameha Grand hotel in Bonn, the Mondrian South Beach hotel in Miami and the Villa Moda store in Bahrain. In addition to running his studio, Wanders is co-founder and Artistic Director of the successful design label Moooi (2001).

He exhibits widely and his work is included in such significant museum collections as MoMA New York, The Stedelijk Museum, Amsterdam, and the V&A Museum, London. Wanders has further published numerous books and is extensively profiled in the global media, appearing in such publications as the New York Times, Domus, The Financial Times and Wallpaper Magazine.

wanders & yoo

Wanders & Yoo is the new project of the renowned YOO brand in Panama City. Located in Marbella, at the exit to the South Corridor; The project will consist of two towers with apartments designed to offer the owners beautiful views of the sea and the city.

A unique style that seeks to create a utopian style

Wanders & Yoo will be the second project of the Yoo chain built in Panama City, this time bringing a concept inspired by the poetic creations of Marcel Wanders, a unique style that seeks to create a utopian world where different ideas coexist in the same place in a harmonious way.
